The Weiland Saloon.

W. Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey, which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit."

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.

Geo. I. Lamy has just started his violin class for the fall term. If you want to study that king of all instruments under the most rapid system known, consult that popular young orchestra leader and teacher.

Borwnie pins, shell amber and sterling silver hair ornaments. Elegant purses, card-cases, and toilet articles just received at Cagwin & Notewares.

Notice.

I, M. Hansen will not be responsible for any debts contracted by others than myself.

M. HANSEN,

CARD OF THANKS.

EAST DURHAM, GREEN CO., N. Y., OCT. 16.

EDITOR MORNING APPEAL—DEAR SIR: I desire to thank through your paper the many kind friends of mine at Carson City who testified in my behalf to the District Attorney of this county last March. I desire to state that the charges brought against me were proven to be wholly false and that the surrogate of this county has decided the contest of Wm. Broadhead's will in my favor and admitted the same to probate. The number of letters written to the District Attorney is so large, and the difficulty of getting all of the names of those who wrote is so great at this late date that I think it better to thank my friends publicly other than by personal letter.

Very Truly Yours,
MRS. MORTON E. GLEVER.

Travelling Fakirs.

Do not permit traveling eye-fakers to palm off inferior glasses and spectacles on you. When in need of optical goods, go to Chas. W. Friend who has the most approved machinery for determining the needs of the eye.—Tribune.

We endorse the above. The two fakirs are the freshest that ever visited this city.

The King of Jugglers.

Severus, the King of Jugglers, and Zenzie, the mysterious, two wonders in the art of legerdemain, will appear at the Opera House on the night of the 24. These artists are well worth seeing, as they are at the head of their profession and perform the latest feats in magic.

The reports from the western part of the State are to the effect that the Silver ticket is gaining ground every day, and all signs point to a glorious victory on the 6th of November. Elko county should not lag in the rear of the procession.—Independent.

These reports can also be relied upon.

"A Tale of two Nations" is the latest novel out. It tells how silver was demonized. It is a thrilling narrative of how John Arnold (Sherman) went to England and was banished by the Rothschilds for $25,000 a year. There is also a love story mixed up with it. It is powerfully written and readable.

Jewett Adams, Superintendent of the Mint, has gone below to be treated for stomach troubles. His wife accompanied him.

WAS CLEVE BOUNCED?

Why Was He Told to Go West?

If the Republican reports of Cleveland's speech are correct, he said at Reno and elsewhere that when he was a boy his mother said: "My son, return to me an honest man, or never look at all."

Now it looks as if Cleve was a terror of the family in his boyhood days and his parents decided to give him a chance to go west. His mother's words to her young hopeful, "return to me an honest man or never look at all," literally translated conveys the idea that she said, "My son if you don't come back a better man than you are a boy, then don't show up here again," or words very much to that effect.

Cleveland was probably bounced when he left home but that is not to his discredit. Many a bad boy has turned out a good man and a credit to his family, but in this case Cleve seems to have kept in mind the maternal warning, to be honest or never return. He has certainly never ventured back to the parental roof. As far as the writer knows he is not prepared to accuse friend Cleve of dishonesty. We have always found him as straight as a string. His staying away from home so long can only be accounted for by the fact that the still small voice of conscience is what prevents him taking chances of returning.

The Air Line Railroad.

Facts of interest to the people regarding the Air Line Railroad are being made public. The road was to receive the subsidy of $3,000 per mile from each and all of the counties through which it was to be constructed, and there was a vague suspicion in the minds of men that the charter was secured in the interest of the Southern Pacific to prevent the construction of a competing line which the people were demanding at the time.

A. C. Cleveland, the promoter of the scheme, was hailed for the time as the Savior of Nevada, the man who was to redeem the State from the clutches of the monopoly, though sober, thoughtful people marveled much why a man who had been so closely identified with the railroads for years, one who had been their confidential agent at the Capitol during every session at the Legislature, should so suddenly develop into an anti-monopolist.

"God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, and monopolies endeavor to emulate Deity in the matter of mystery only. They are as mysterious and secret as it is possible for mortals to be. Their secrets are confined to the inner circle, and their motive for doing many things can only be surmised by the public. It now transpires that it was not A. C. Cleveland who paid the expenses attached to the survey of the Air Line Railroad, but the late Senator M. D. Foley, and Mr. Foley was the legal representative of the Southern Pacific in Nevada. The Air Line, it seems, though perhaps many of those who were advocating its construction did not know it, was in the interest of the Southern Pacific company.—Journal.

The gubernatorial campaign is getting quite lively in California. Jim Budd, the Democratic nominee, is charged with seducing his ward, letting her die in a pest house and trying to rob her of her property. The Post prints the Court record of his various offences. The Examiner has a private letter written by Dan Burns to Budd which is knocking Budd out of several hundred votes daily. If the charges against Budd are true he don't deserve to be elected. So far the Populist nominee has escaped unscathed. The votes that fall away from Budd and Budd go to him.

Read the Silver party State and county ticket carefully over, resolutions read all; if there is a man upon it with whom you are not acquainted, make inquiries about him and we will guarantee that you will find his record clear and that he is sound as a dollar on the silver question, preferring principal to party all the time. It is the ticket that every Nevadan should vote this fall, and ought to be the only ticket in the field. We believe that those who fail to vote it will, after election day, think it was the only ticket in the field.

General Warner has been battling for justice to silver since 1875. No man living is better able than he is to give advice as the best means for bringing about its silver recoinstitution. Go and hear him if you can.

DOUGLAS STORMED.

The Whole County Blazing With Silver Sentiment.

Reports from Douglas relative to the invasion of the county by Frank Newlands and the State ticket nominees indicate that the county was painted very red by the Silver men.

They took in Gardnerville, Miller-ville and Genoa and it was a triumphal march. The citizens turned out en masse and at each town there was a grand ball and general jollification. Newlands set himself squarely in line with Douglas on the irrigation question and his speeches were interrupted with cheers. They took in the school houses, the creameries and ranches, and Howell and Cutting did the gallant act for the pretty girls, who are very numerous in the valley.

They danced at Gardnerville until nearly daylight. Every woman in Douglas is solid for the Silver ticket.

Mr. John D. Kersey.

J. D. Kersey the Republican nominee for Sheriff and Assessor is a friend of the laboring class not of the corporations, as our contemporary would have it. He thoroughly understands the duty of the office he aspires to.—Weekly.

There is no denying that he thoroughly understands the duties of his office. Having been installed there for over ten years it would be strange if he did not.

But the assertion that he is a friend of the laboring class and not of the corporations is a proposition that few sane men will advance. If he was the friend of the laboring man and not the corporations the corporations would be fighting him, but they are not.

The corporations at this end of the State always protected their own. Kersey has always been under their protecting wing on election day and we never knew a man yet who assessed corporation property at anything like a fair valuation, who was so protected on election day. High ratings for the poor and low ratings for the rich is the motto of the assessors who bask in corporation sunshine.

The taxpayers of Ormsby have stood about all the nonsense of this kind they propose to submit to, and this year they will give another assessor a chance.

Chivalrous Modt shows the right sort of spirit in the following: We notice in one or two Democratic papers reference to the fact that Mr. Estee's daughter accompanies her father on his campaign tour. We trust for the honor and chivalry of the Republican party that there will be no more references of this kind. Mr. Estee's daughters are charming and refined young ladies, and their father can travel in no better company.

The Reno Gazette is trying to belittle Senator Jones because the Senator is honest, and admits that silver will never receive justice at the hands of the Republican party. The people of Nevada will show their appreciation of Jones' patriotic stand by returning him to the Senate by a unanimous vote.

Candidates' Ball.

The young men of Empire propose to give a grand blowout at Wiggins' hall Friday evening, October 26, in honor of the coming election. All candidates attending will secure all the ladies' vote. Admission to hall $1.00.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that I, Earl Raffetto will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife.
